INDICT ELMO BOYS

FIVE ARE CHARGED WITH DISTURBING THE PEACE

GAVE BOND--TRIAL THURS.

Case of Margaret E. Graham Against J. C. Pistole, Executor, Is Being Heard This Afternoon.

Five young men residing at Elmo were in court this morning having been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of peace disturbance. They were Dale Kinman, Ralph McGinty, Arthur Hamilton, Glen Carver and Glen Bailey. Prosecutor McCaffrey stated the indictment was returned on information furnished by Bert Spangler of Elmo, it being charged that the defendants visited his home as uninvited guests on the occasion of a birthday party and proceeded to use violent and ugly language and to otherwise disturb the peace.

Kinman and Carver pleaded guilty to the charge, the others pleading not guilty. The boys ranging in age from sixteen to eighteen years old were without counsel and Judge Dawson gave them till afternoon to decide what they wanted to do. Returning after the dinner hour they announced they had not secured an attorney, Kinman and Carver asking they be allowed to withdraw their plea of guilty and enter one of not guilty, which was done. Bond was required in the sum of $100 each and the case was set to be tried on Thursday.

Young Kinman was also named in two other indictments, one for peace disturbance, and one for shooting on the public highways.

The case of Wm. J. Wagner, the Wilcox farmer charged with a statutory offense, was continued until the April term.

The court is engaged this afternoon in hearing the case of Margaret E. Graham against Jas. C. Pistole, executor, on appeal from the probate court. It is expected the case will occupy the remainder of the afternoon, as a large number of witnesses have been subpoenaed.

The case of Bernard Brady against Marcella Costello, suit on note, was continued at the cost of defendant.

DAYS BURIED

Robert ... Elmo, Home From France ... Caught in Debris From Shell Explosion.

Robert Lee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lee of Elmo, arrived home this morning from Camp Dodge, Ia., where he has been for several weeks since his arrival from France.

Young Lee was partially buried for three days by the explosion of a large shell. He was covered with the falling earth and rocks with the exception of his head and shoulders and was not found by the stretcher bearers until the third day when we was extricated and taken to the hospital. He suffered a severe hip wound but has completely recovered. He went overseas last spring with a contingent of men from Camp Funston.

WILL BODIES BE SENT HOME?

Mortal Remains of Soldier Dead Will Sleep in Foreign Soil Where They Fell.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 3.—Since Governor Henry J. Allen has returned home from war work in France he has received a great many inquiries, personal and by letter, from relatives of Kansas boys in the American Expeditionary Forces. These inquiries cover a multitude of subjects involving the boys' welfare, the prospect of their return home, how they are cared for and fed, and not a few of the letters are from parents of boys who lie buried in France. These parents invariably ask one question: Will the government send home the bodies of the American soldiers who died on the ifeld of battle?

"I can't understand why so many reports should have been circulated that the government plans some day to send home the bodies of the men who were buried in the battlefields of France," said the governor. "There is no intention whatever of sending back to Kansas or to any other state the bodies of the men who have died on the battlefields of France. The plan now being carried out over there is that the dead are being removed from the temporary graves, dug hastily throughout the battle area, and are being re-buried with sacred ceremony in the American military cemeteries — plats that are owned by the United States government. It would be almost impossible to ship the bodies of America's dead back to this country. It is realized that the burials on the battlefields are made as promptly as possible. The body of the soldier is wrapped in his blanket and deposited in the grave dug by his comrades or by squads of soldiers assigned to the task. It is the universal wish of a soldier to be buried where he falls. There is something perhaps of a military sentimentality about this. But a careful record is being kept of these burials—as good a record as is possible. Over each grave, wherever it is made, is erected a wooden cross bearing a metal plate on which is stenciled the data on the identification tag worn by each soldier. Thus, with this record complete, it should be possible to locate the grave of any American soldier."

CAPT. PAUL HOGAN GOES WITH ARMY OF OCCUPATION

GET INSPECTION HONORS

A Heart Breaking March of 3 Kilometers Found the Men in Good Shape.—Germans Glad to See Them.

The following interesting letter telling of some of the movements of the 311th Field Artillery, is from Captain Paul Hogan, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hogan, living southwest of the city in the Rockford neighborhood. Captain Hogan was first lieutenant when he was sent to France and he has since been promoted to a captaincy. The letter was written to his wife, who is teaching in Cotley College at Nevada, Mo., during her husband's absence.

Captain Hogan is a nephew of Attorney M. E. Ford of this city.

Dudeldorf, Germany, Dec. 17.

Yes, that is where we are, Dudeldorf. When we started for Germany we were at St. Benoist, France, in the Toul sector, where we had been ever since Sept. 19, when we first went into action just after the St. Mihiel drive. Of course we had changed our position several times but we remained in the same sector. When we first went into action, we were supporting the 89th Division infantry, which, with the 42d Division had driven in the St. Mihiel salient. The 89th Division was soon taken out for a rest but the artillery remained in action between then and Nov. 11. Several infantry divisions occupied the trenches in front of us at different times and when the armistice was signed we were supporting the 28th Division, to which we were attached. When the army of occupation was picked there was some question about whether we would go or not, as we had by that time been permanently assigned to the 28th Division but as we had been highly complimented several times for our part and the 89th was trying to get us back, we thought our chances pretty good. My battery and one other of our regiment were cited by an army inspector as having the best horses in the A. E. F. and the divisional commanding general said that he had never given us a job we didn't do, and that the infantry had not made a single kick on faulty shooting which is pretty good, for sometimes we were shooting at a range of four miles or more and the shells going only a few hundred meters from our own troops. * * * We were assigned to the 89th again and ordered into Germany. So here we are, having made a record of the best march discipline in the army of occupation. When I tell you that the inspection on which we were given the honors was at the end of the most heart rending day's march I have ever seen and the Colonel says it was the worst he ever saw. It was some march, not long, only 33 kilometers. We made 42 some days, but we went over some of the worst hills I ever saw. One hill was 7 kilos long and so steep the horses could hardly pull the carriage up. We first went into a town called Oberkail and just got nicely fixed when we had to move. We are not far from Bitburg. On the march we came through Luxemburg, and the city of Luxemburg. The last four or five days was through some beautiful country but it was so cloudy that we could not see a thing. It is not cold here but it is just like France, it rains "immer and immer." The people do not seem very antagnoistic, although there is a lot of ex-German soldiers. In fact some of the people seem almost glad to see us here. We have a battery officers mess here. Our mess sergeant gives our rations to a German woman and she cooks for us. It was impossible to write on the trip but I will make up for it now as we appear to be settled for a short time at least.

A CORKING GAME PROMISED

The Normal-William Jewell Event Tomorrow Night Is Going to Be the Real Article.

Maryville basket ball fans will be given an opportunity to see an exhibition of real basket ball tomorrow night, when William Jewell comes for a return game with the Normal Bear Cats. The Jewells so far have a clean slate, with three conference victories all of which have been played on their home court. They have defeated Tarkio, Maryville and Springfield. But they have a good twenty point handicap when playing at home because of the size of their court. With a veteran team they are going to make a strong bid for the championship this year. But they are going to find the Normal's line up greatly changed and improved since the last game with them. "Dad" Scarlett and "Bill" Richards, old letter men, who have been released from the navy will be seen in the line up. Together they make a defensive combination that will possibly put a kink in Jewell's "Mayberry-Evans" scoring machine. Ham will prabably be at center, with Capt. Miller and Egley or Pucket as forwards. The loser of this contest will possibly eliminate them from the championship race, and the Bear Cats feel confident that they are going to keep in the running.

The Jewells are out on a three-game trips, the first one being with Missouri Wesleyans at Cameron tonight They will jump to Maryville Tuesday and on Wednesday night will tangle with Tarkio.

GET CHEAPER COAL?

BITUMINOUS PRICES TO DROP WITH BAN OFF TODAY

BIG SUPPLIES ON HAND

Fuel Administration Estimates Stocks in This Section Are Ample for at Least Four Months.

Washington, Feb. 3.—A sharp decline in the retail price of bituminous coal is expected by officials to follow the lifting of price and zone restrictions, effective February 1.

With the country overstocked with winter bituminous supplies and with the mines continuing to register high production marks, officials point out that the public will witness a mad scramble among the operatives to place contracts for their output. Keen competition among the various fields will bring to the consumer a lowering of present prices.

Prices now in effect were fixed by the President, based upon production costs in different fields, and vary between $2.35 and $4.95 per ton. The Fuel Administration today estimated that in states east of the Mississippi the stocks of bituminous coal on hand are sufficient to last for about two months, while in the West and Northwest the stocks are ample for probably four months or more. Production goes ahead at full speed, the weekly output averaging 10,000,000 tons.

Officials scouted reports that many of the largest operators will cut down output in order to keep prices up. They argue that there now is every incentive for the operator to stimulate production in his field, for with zone restrictions removed, the operator will not be tied down by limitations as to the territory he may supply, but can go into any section to place his output. The so-called independent operators are expected to play a part in forcing a reduction in coal prices as they are expected to make a bid for contracts formerly given to their competitors.

SHOE CONSERVATION

W. H. Kelley, a lumber salesman, of Omaha, found Neolin Soles so tough and durable that one pair of soles served on a second pair of uppers after the first pair of uppers had worn out in ten months of hard walking.

And he says, "Those same soles will stand another ten months of constant daily wear."

This is unusual service even for Neolin Soles but Mr. Kelley's experience should indicate to you a method of cutting down those rising shoe bills you have to meet. Simply make sure the new shoes you buy are Neolin-soled and have worn shoes repaired with these soles which are scientifically made to be comfortable, waterproof and exceedingly long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

Are They Afraid of Their Shadows?

YESTERDAY was the proverbial ground hog day. Tradition has it that if he sees his shadow on the morning of February 2nd, he goes back into his hole and remains six weeks. During his period of hibernation we are to have bad weather. If he does not see his shadow, winter breaks and fine weather prevails.

There were no ghosts or will-o' the-wisp hovering over this agency in 1918. The weather was fine. The spooks took to hiding and the swimming was good. Whether his hogship can over-turn Prof. Hick's theories of the planets regulating the weather we will not discuss here, but we will devote this little ad to the subject of hibernation.

One year ago a number of fire insurance agents came forth in these columns and in a spread-eagle fashion tried to make the public believe they were real insurance agents. They were full of boasting and vainglory.

We took the cudgel and at one swell blow drove them back into their dungeons and as yet they are still hiding. It was only a cap pistol we snapped at them. It was not loaded. After getting over their fright we fully expected them to come out and survey the surroundings. But the traditional six weeks were up — even unto 52 weeks—they are still hibernating.

We were feeling so good over the 1917 crop we proposed to them that if this agency had not written more fire insurance than any three agencies in Maryville combined, we'd donate $10 to the Knights of Columbus. We never had to make that contribution.

It is unsportsmanlike to shoot game asleep or setting. Only the meat eaters do that. But it is meat we are after. We are going to take in more territory, and say that if this agency did not write more individual policies, more premiums, and a greater volume of fire insurance during the year 1918 than all the fire insurance agents in Maryville combined, we will donate $20 to any charitable institution, order, society or individual that a committee of good citizens may name or designate.

It is said that Antony's oration praising Brutus at the bier of Caesar was made to incite riot, but these ads are not written to cause hard feelings, but in a spirit of compassion for those who are hibernating and are afraid to come out and get in the swim.

Coming events cast their shadows before them and if this don't bring 'em out, we are going to shoot 'em up right next time.

We wrote more farm insurance than any agency north of the Missouri River in 1918.

If this is true, what does it signify? That the public is learning to get their insurance from the agents who know how to write it.

For a well written policy is half the battle in case of a loss. A good company is the other half.

In the many losses this agency has had, NOT ONE COMPLAINT ABOUT THE ADJUSTMENT. Why is this? BECAUSE WE WRITE THE POLICY RIGHT to begin with, and do most of our own adjusting.

Remember that we do all kinds of insurance, representing eight of the biggest companies.

We write Fire, Lightning, Windstorm, Cyclone and Tornado Insurance either on town or farm property.

We write death from any cause on live stock.

We write short term grain policies.

We write automobile insurance against fire and theft.

We write mercantile property.

We write farm property, either on the cash or installment plan.

If you want a good policy, consult this agency.

GETTING HOME THE MAIN THING

Roland Tabler, Fifteen months Over-Seas, is Anxious to be Back Again.

In a letter to home folks, Roland Tabler, with the A. E. F., writes as follows:

Jan. 5, St. Louber. Well, the New Year is here and your son is still in the army and a long ways from home. Don't know when we will be home, either—its a question with all of us, and that's all we talk about. We are working on the docks now and its a job I don't like; I'd rather be stirring the soil back in America, the land of liberty. We're paid today. I got seventy francs (a franc is about 18 cents) and they don't go anyways over here. Haven't seen a cootie yet and hope I wont. Our bunks are made of slats and a straw tick like Rover sleeps on. I would give all the world to be home. My mind has been on that for fifteen months and it is nothing but a blank now. I see by the papers that there's plenty of jobs for the soldiers. I don't see why there shouldn't be. We all had jobs when we came in and the jobs the wounded occupied are filled by women. But I will need some time to get myself back in a position to work as I have to. Haven't had any mail for some time. Guess my box is lost—just my luck.

EXPECTS TO BE HOME SOON.

Coporal Floyd Reynolds Writes His Father in This City.

"Am in hopes of being on my road son is on over here. It has rained every son is over here. It has rained every day for the past two weeks. I saw Henry (a brother) today and he is getting along fine and dandy. Tell Frank Reynolds I would like to hear from him. News is scarce so I will close for the time being.

I certainly praise your medicine."—Mrs. SUDA OLDFATHER, 548 West Second Street, Mishawaka, Ind.

A WORD ABOUT THE KIDNEYS

BY DOCTOR WATSON.

People are easily frightened when they think something is the matter with their lungs or heart, and well they may be; but few people understand the dangers of diseased kidneys. These organs have a duty of vital importance to perform, and if they are diseased, there is no telling how or where the symptoms may appear. The kidneys are filters, and when they are healthy they remove the poisons from the blood and purify it. When the kidneys are diseased, the poisons are spread everywhere, and one of these poisons is uric acid. The uric acid is carried all through the system and deposited in various places, in the form of urate salts—in the feet, ankles, wrists and back—often forming bags under the eyes. Sometimes the resulting trouble is called rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and backache. Finally, come stone in the bladder, diabetes and Bright's disease.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., in recent years, discovered that a certain combination of remedies would dissolve uric acid (urate salts) in the system. He found this combination to be harmless, so that he made it up in tablets, of double strength, and called them Anuric Tablets. They dissolve uric acid in the human system as hot coffee dissolves sugar. If you have uric acid troubles, don't delay in taking Anuric Tablets, which can be secured in the drug stores. You can write Dr. Pierce, too, and he will tell you what to eat and how to live so that more uric acid will not form in your system. Dr. Pierce will not charge for this advice.

INDICT ELMO BOYS

FIVE ARE CHARGED WITH DISTURBING THE PEACE

GAVE BOND--TRIAL THURS.

Case of Margaret E. Graham Against J. C. Pistole, Executor, Is Being Heard This Afternoon.

Five young men residing at Elmo were in court this morning having been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of peace disturbance. They were Dale Kinman, Ralph McGinty, Arthur Hamilton, Glen Carver and Glen Bailey. Prosecutor McCaffrey stated the indictment was returned on information furnished by Bert Spangler of Elmo, it being charged that the defendants visited his home as uninvited guests on the occasion of a birthday party and proceeded to use violent and ugly language and to otherwise disturb the peace.

Kinman and Carver pleaded guilty to the charge, the others pleading not guilty. The boys ranging in age from sixteen to eighteen years old were without counsel and Judge Dawson gave them till afternoon to decide what they wanted to do. Returning after the dinner hour they announced they had not secured an attorney, Kinman and Carver asking they be allowed to withdraw their plea of guilty and enter one of not guilty, which was done. Bond was required in the sum of $100 each and the case was set to be tried on Thursday.

Young Kinman was also named in two other indictments, one for peace disturbance, and one for shooting on the public highways.

The case of Wm. J. Wagner, the Wilcox farmer charged with a statutory offense, was continued until the April term.

The court is engaged this afternoon in hearing the case of Margaret E. Graham against Jas. C. Pistole, executor, on appeal from the probate court. It is expected the case will occupy the remainder of the afternoon, as a large number of witnesses have been subpoenaed.

The case of Bernard Brady against Marcella Costello, suit on note, was continued at the cost of defendant.

5 DAYS BURIED

Robert Lee, Elmo, Home From France, Caught in Debris From Shell Explosion.

Robert Lee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lee of Elmo, arrived home this morning from Camp Dodge, Ia., where he has been for several weeks since his arrival from France.

Young Lee was partially buried for three days by the explosion of a large shell. He was covered with the falling earth and rocks with the exception of his head and shoulders and was not found by the stretcher bearers until the third day when we was extricated and taken to the hospital. He suffered a severe hip wound but has completely recovered. He went overseas last spring with a contingent of men from Camp Funston.

WILL BODIES BE SENT HOME?

Mortal Remains of Soldier Dead Will Sleep in Foreign Soil Where They Fell.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 3.—Since Governor Henry J. Allen has returned home from war work in France he has received a great many inquiries, personal and by letter, from relatives of Kansas boys in the American Expeditionary Forces. These inquiries cover a multitude of subjects involving the boys' welfare, the prospect of their return home, how they are cared for and fed, and not a few of the letters are from parents of boys who lie buried in France. These parents invariably ask one question: Will the government send home the bodies of the American soldiers who died on the ifeld of battle?

"I can't understand why so many reports should have been circulated that the government plans some day to send home the bodies of the men who were buried in the battlefields of France," said the governor. "There is no intention whatever of sending back to Kansas or to any other state the bodies of the men who have died on the battlefields of France. The plan now being carried out over there is that the dead are being removed from the temporary graves, dug hastily throughout the battle area, and are being re-buried with sacred ceremony in the American military cemeteries — plats that are owned by the United States government. It would be almost impossible to ship the bodies of America's dead back to this country. It is realized that the burials on the battlefields are made as promptly as possible. The body of the soldier is wrapped in his blanket and deposited in the grave dug by his comrades or by squads of soldiers assigned to the task. It is the universal wish of a soldier to be buried where he falls. There is something perhaps of a military sentimentality about this. But a careful record is being kept of these burials—as good a record as is possible. Over each grave, wherever it is made, is erected a wooden cross bearing a metal plate on which is stenciled the data on the identification tag worn by each soldier. Thus, with this record complete, it should be possible to locate the grave of any American soldier."

CAPT. PAUL HOGAN GOES WITH ARMY OF OCCUPATION

GET INSPECTION HONORS

A Heart Breaking March of 3 Kilometers Found the Men in Good Shape.—Germans Glad to See Them.

The following interesting letter telling of some of the movements of the 311th Field Artillery, is from Captain Paul Hogan, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hogan, living southwest of the city in the Rockford neighborhood. Captain Hogan was first lieutenant when he was sent to France and he has since been promoted to a captaincy. The letter was written to his wife, who is teaching in Cotley College at Nevada, Mo., during her husband's absence.

Captain Hogan is a nephew of Attorney M. E. Ford of this city.

Dudeldorf, Germany, Dec. 17.

Dudeldorf. When we started for Germany we were at St. Benoist, France, in the Toul sector, where we had been ever since Sept. 19, when we first went into action just after the St. Mihiel drive. Of course we had changed our position several times but we remained in the same sector. When we first went into action, we were supporting the 89th Division infantry, which, with the 42d Division had driven in the St. Mihiel salient. The 89th Division was soon taken out for a rest but the artillery remained in action between then and Nov. 11. Several infantry divisions occupied the trenches in front of us at different times and when the armistice was signed we were supporting the 28th Division, to which we were attached. When the army of occupation was picked there was some question about whether we would go or not, as we had by that time been permanently assigned to the 28th Division but as we had been highly complimented several times for our part and the 89th was trying to get us back, we thought our chances pretty good. My battery and one other of our regiment were cited by an army inspector as having the best horses in the A. E. F. and the divisional commanding general said that he had never given us a job we didn't do, and that the infantry had not made a single kick on faulty shooting which is pretty good, for sometimes we were shooting at a range of four miles or more and the shells going only a few hundred meters from our own troops. * * * We were assigned to the 89th again and ordered into Germany. So here we are, having made a record of the best march discipline in the army of occupation. When I tell you that the inspection on which we were given the honors was at the end of the most heart rending day's march I have ever seen and the Colonel says it was the worst he ever saw. It was some march, not long, only 33 kilometers. We made 42 some days, but we went over some of the worst hills I ever saw. One hill was 7 kilos long and so steep the horses could hardly pull the carriage up. We first went into a town called Oberkail and just got nicely fixed when we had to move. We are not far from Bitburg. On the march we came through Luxemburg, and the city of Luxemburg. The last four or five days was through some beautiful country but it was so cloudy that we could not see a thing. It is not cold here but it is just like France, it rains "immer and immer." The people do not seem very antagnoistic, although there is a lot of ex-German soldiers. In fact some of the people seem almost glad to see us here. We have a battery officers mess here. Our mess sergeant gives our rations to a German woman and she cooks for us. It was impossible to write on the trip but I will make up for it now as we appear to be settled for a short time at least.

A CORKING GAME PROMISED

The Normal-William Jewell Event Tomorrow Night Is Going to Be the Real Article.

Maryville basket ball fans will be given an opportunity to see an exhibition of real basket ball tomorrow night, when William Jewell comes for a return game with the Normal Bear Cats. The Jewells so far have a clean slate, with three conference victories all of which have been played on their home court. They have defeated Tarkio, Maryville and Springfield. But they have a good twenty point handicap when playing at home because of the size of their court. With a veteran team they are going to make a strong bid for the championship this year. But they are going to find the Normal's line up greatly changed and improved since the last game with them. "Dad" Scarlett and "Bill" Richards, old letter men, who have been released from the navy will be seen in the line up. Together they make a defensive combination that will possibly put a kink in Jewell's "Mayberry-Evans" scoring machine. Ham will prabably be at center, with Capt. Miller and Egley or Pucket as forwards. The loser of this contest will possibly eliminate them from the championship race, and the Bear Cats feel confident that they are going to keep in the running.

The Jewells are out on a three-game trips, the first one being with Missouri Wesleyans at Cameron tonight. They will jump to Maryville Tuesday and on Wednesday night will tangle with Tarkio.

GET CHEAPER COAL?

BITUMINOUS PRICES TO DROP WITH BAN OFF TODAY

BIG SUPPLIES ON HAND

Fuel Administration Estimates Stocks in This Section Are Ample for at Least Four Months.

Washington, Feb. 3.—A sharp decline in the retail price of bituminous coal is expected by officials to follow the lifting of price and zone restrictions, effective February 1.

With the country overstocked with winter bituminous supplies and with the mines continuing to register high production marks, officials point out that the public will witness a mad scramble among the operatives to place contracts for their output. Keen competition among the various fields will bring to the consumer a lowering of present prices.

Prices now in effect were fixed by the President, based upon production costs in different fields, and vary between $2.35 and $4.95 per ton. The Fuel Administration today estimated that in states east of the Mississippi the stocks of bituminous coal on hand are sufficient to last for about two months, while in the West and Northwest the stocks are ample for probably four months or more. Production goes ahead at full speed, the weekly output averaging 10,000,000 tons.

Officials scouted reports that many of the largest operators will cut down output in order to keep prices up. They argue that there now is every incentive for the operator to stimulate production in his field, for with zone restrictions removed, the operator will not be tied down by limitations as to the territory he may supply, but can go into any section to place his output. The so-called independent operators are expected to play a part in forcing a reduction in coal prices as they are expected to make a bid for contracts formerly given to their competitors.

It was determined last summer to have this baton made, and specifications have now been drawn. It will cost at least $32,000 and will be the costliest insignia belonging to any military official on earth. Marshal Foch is expected in America with President Poincare and Premier Clemenceau of France in April or May.

SHOE CONSERVATION

W. H. Kelley, a lumber salesman, of Omaha, found Neolin Soles so touch and durable that one pair of soles served on a second pair of uppers after the first pair of uppers had worn out in ten months of hard walking.

And he says, "Those same soles will stand another ten months of constant daily wear."

This is unusual service even for Neolin Soles but Mr. Kelley's experience should indicate to you a method of cutting down those rising shoe bills you have to meet. Simply make sure the new shoes you buy are Neolin-soled and have worn shoes repaired with these soles which are scientifically made to be comfortable, waterproof and exceedingly long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

Are They Afraid of Their Shadows?

YESTERDAY was the proverbial ground hog day. Tradition has it that if he sees his shadow on the morning of February 2nd, he goes back into his hole and remains six weeks. During his period of hibernation we are to have bad weather. If he does not see his shadow, winter breaks and fine weather prevails.

There were no ghosts or will-o'-the-wisp hovering over this agency in 1918. The weather was fine. The spooks took to hiding and the swimming was good. Whether his hogship can over-turn Prof. Hick's theories of the planets regulating the weather we will not discuss here, but we will devote this little ad to the subject of hibernation.

One year ago a number of fire insurance agents came forth in these columns and in a spread-eagle fashion tried to make the public believe they were real insurance agents. They were full of boasting and vainglory.

We took the cudgel and at one swell blow drove them back into their dungeons and as yet they are still hiding. It was only a cap pistol we snapped at them. It was not loaded. After getting over their fright we fully expected them to come out and survey the surroundings. But the traditional six weeks were up—even unto 52 weeks—they are still hibernating.

We were feeling so good over the 1917 crop we proposed to them that if this agency had not written more fire insurance than any three agencies in Maryville combined, we'd donate $10 to the Knights of Columbus. We never had to make that contribution.

It is unsportsmanlike to shoot game asleep or setting. Only the meat eaters do that. But it is meat we are after. We are going to take in more territory, and say that if this agency did not write more individual policies, more premiums, and a greater volume of fire insurance, during the year 1918 than all the fire insurance agents in Maryville combined, we will donate $20 to any charitable institution, order, society or individual that a committee of good citizens may name or designate.

It is said that Antony's oration praising Brutus at the bier of Caesar was made to incite riot, but these ads are not written to cause hard feelings, but in a spirit of compassion for those who are hibernating and are afraid to come out and get in the swim.

Coming events cast their shadows before them and if this don't bring 'em out, we are going to shoot 'em up right next time.

We wrote more farm insurance than any agency north of the Missouri River in 1918.

If this is true, what does it signify? That the public is learning to get their insurance from the agents who know how to write it.

For a well written policy is half the battle in case of a loss. A good company is the other half.

In the many losses this agency has had, NOT ONE COMPLAINT ABOUT THE ADJUSTMENT. Why is this? BECAUSE WE WRITE THE POLICY RIGHT to begin with, and do most of our own adjusting.

Remember that we do all kinds of insurance, representing eight of the biggest companies.

We write Fire, Lightning, Windstorm, Cyclone and Tornado Insurance either on town or farm property.

We write death from any cause on live stock.

We write short term grain policies.

We write automobile insurance against fire and theft.

We write mercantile property.

We write farm property, either on the cash or installment plan.

If you want a good policy, consult this agency.

GETTING HOME THE MAIN THING

Roland Tabler, Fifteen months Over-Seas, is Anxious to be Back Again.

In a letter to home folks, Roland Tabler, with the A. E. F., writes as follows:

Jan. 5, St. Louber. Well, the New Year is here and your son is still in the army and a long ways from home. Don't know when we will be home, either—its a question with all of us, and that's all we talk about. We are working on the docks now and its a job I don't like; I'd rather be stirring the soil back in America, the land of liberty. We're paid today. I got seventy francs (a franc is about 18 cents) and they don't go anyways over here. Haven't seen a cootie yet and hope I wont. Our bunks are made of slats and a straw tick like Rover sleeps on. I would give all the world to be home. My mind has been on that for fifteen months and it is nothing but a blank now. I see by the papers that there's plenty of jobs for the soldiers. I don't see why there shouldn't be. We all had jobs when we came in and the jobs the wounded occupied are filled by women. But I will need some time to get myself back in a position to work as I have to. Haven't had any mail for some time. Guess my box is lost—just my luck.

ROLAND TABLER,
Hdq. Co., 35th Infantry.

"Am in hopes of being on my road son is on over here. It has rained every son is over here. It has rained every day for the past two weeks. I saw Henry (a brother) today and he is petting along fine and dandy. Tell Frank Reynolds I would like to hear from him. News is scarce so I will close for the time being.

Daily Health Talks

A WORD ABOUT THE KIDNEYS

BY DOCTOR WATSON.

People are easily frightened when they think something is the matter with their lungs or heart, and well they may be; but few people understand the dangers of diseased kidneys. These organs have a duty of vital importance to perform, and if they are diseased, there is no telling how or where the symptoms may appear. The kidneys are filters, and when they are healthy they remove the poisons from the blood and purify it. When the kidneys are diseased, the poisons are spread everywhere, and one of these poisons is uric acid. The uric acid is carried all through the system and deposited in various places, in the form of urate salts—in the feet, ankles, wrists and back—often forming bags under the eyes. Sometimes the resulting trouble is called rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and backache. Finally, come stone in the bladder, diabetes and Bright's disease.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., in recent years, discovered that a certain combination of remedies would dissolve uric acid (urate salts) in the system. He found this combination to be harmless, so that he made it up in tablets, of double strength, and called them Anuric Tablets. They dissolve uric acid in the human system as hot coffee dissolves sugar. If you have uric acid troubles, don't delay in taking Anuric Tablets, which can be secured in the drug stores. You can write Dr. Pierce, too, and he will tell you what to eat and how to live so that more uric acid will not form in your system. Dr. Pierce will not charge for this advice.
